Harrisburg, March 15 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission collected $7,049,543 in traffic tolls last year, an increase of 19.3 per cent over the year previous.

The commission disclosed today in a report that a total of 3,848,788 fare-paying vehicles used the 160-mile superhighway in 1949, an increase of 13 per cent over 1948.

Passenger cars produced about 35 per cent of the total revenue, while trucks and buses accounted for about 65 per cent. The average travel rate per mile amounted to .0183 cents.

ment will exceed 1,600 within the next five years. This is approximately 200 more pupils than are now enrolled in the district schools. The school commission, which has been in operation for 18 months, meets monthly to study population, enrollment, transportation, school finance and curriculum. Findings of the commission are forwarded to the Joint School board in the form of recommendations.

Completion of this new building, which will house about 260 students, will supply the district with three elementary centers located in relation to the population centers or attendance areas of the pupils. All three centers will train pupils for one secondary center.

To Reassign Pupils

Operation of this third elementary unit will necessitate reassignment of pupils and revision of transportation routes. Announcements concerning these changes will be made prior to the opening of the next school term.

The proposal to build an elementary center in the Bendersville area was approved unanimously by the Upper Adams Joint School board at a regular meeting on June 6. Preliminary details were left in the hands of the property committee of the Joint School board, and immediate action was taken to obtain the approval of state authorities.

Approval of the county school board was obtained July 12. Final action was taken by the Joint board on November 7. Now the state has approved the plans and with the awarding of the contract construction will begin immediately.

DAIRYMEN HEAR

for April, May and June was $5.10.

Concerning the dairymen's fight against oleo margarine Welly said: "We are not opposed to the product itself but to the commodity as it is represented. We don't want to see the consumers put in the position of paying for something they don't get. The bill just passed in Congress states that oleo must not be represented as a dairy product." He added that Pennsylvania, along with many other states, now prohibits the sale of colored oleo. Mr. Welly said he believed that a long fight is ahead on the substitution of vegetable oil products for dairy products.

Gives Humorous Talk

Rev. Nevins Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, concluded a humorous talk on a serious note. He said, "There is bound to be unrest, enmity, ill-will, and hatred whenever people stop laughing and singing." He referred to the tendency of too many people "to wait for someone to come along and put something in their hands. There is a verse in the Bible which speaks of a man with sweat on his brow and a loaf of bread in his hands, he continued. "This makes sense to me. To be without doing means that someone else must do more. What we need to do is to cooperate and to work for the advantage of all."

John K. Mansberger, a delegate from the York Springs local to the Interstate convention at Philadelphia in November reported on his attendance at that convention. Concerning the cooperative's work he stated that it had handled 698 million pounds of milk worth 37 million dollars in the year 1949 and had held over 20 hearings in the interest of the dairymen.

Present at the banquet were Arthur J. G. Ebert, Biglerville local delegate to the convention; George L. Haenn, secretary-treasurer and alternate delegate of the Biglerville local; Edgar Leer, president of the York Springs local; Robert Wentz, Philadelphia dairy products fieldman, and E. C. Dunning of Chambersburg.

A turkey dinner was served to the group by the cafeteria staff and the home economics department of the Upper Adams Joint high school.

Ransom, Middlecoff Clash For Top Money

Palm Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Defending champion Henry Ransom and National Open champion Cary Middlecoff battled for top money today in the final round of the 11th annual Seminole Golf club's 54-hole $10,000 tournament.

Middlecoff, playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla., set a new competitive course record yesterday over the rolling 6,395-yard Seminole course with his eight under par 64 and a 36-hole total of 137.

Ransom, of St. Andrews, Ill., who led the field of 42 professionals on opening day with a three under par 69, was one stroke better yesterday with 34-34—68. Ransom won the tournament in 1948 and 1949 and has been under par on every round in the three tournaments.

BILL MARTIN'S SPAULDING "5" STATE CHAMPS

The Spaulding high school basketball team of Barre, Vt., coached by "Bill" Martin, formerly of Gettysburg, copped the Vermont state championship last Saturday evening by taking a thrilling 48-46 victory.

Spaulding won its league championship, its first since 1938, with a record of 10 wins and two losses. After taking the Northern tournament the Barre outfit met the Southern champs to gain the title.

This week Spaulding will represent Vermont in the annual New England Scholastic tournament to be staged at the Boston Garden on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Coach Martin's team has drawn Somerville, the tournament favorite, for its initial test on Thursday. Somerville won the title last year and boasts a star who has averaged 22 points per game this year.

The Spaulding team has an overall record for the season of 22 wins against but five defeats.

During the Christmas holidays Coach Martin brought his team to this area for games with Chambersburg, Carlisle and Delone. The Granite state boys lost to both Chambersburg and Carlisle while defeating Delone. Spaulding is reported to have greatly improved since that time.

KENTUCKY AND LASALLE LOSE

New York, March 15 (AP)—The national invitation basketball tournament—an old bugaboo for Adolph Rupp—again is haunting the Kentucky mastermind. This time "The Baron" sees beavers running about.

The Beavers—born on CNY—dealt Rupp his worst defeat in 20 years at Kentucky in the quarter-final round of the NIT last night. The score was 89 to 50.

Thus, City's white-hot quintet will meet Duquesne in the semifinals Thursday night. Duquesne advanced with a 49-47 victory over LaSalle of Philadelphia in the opener. Bradley and St. John's will play in the other semi-final game, with the finals set for Saturday.

"I figured we'd win this thing," Rupp said following the rout. "No excuses, my boys were the worst ever."

Defeat in the NIT is nothing new for Rupp. His "fabulous five" was blasted out in the quarter-finals last year by Loyola of Chicago. In 1947 it was Utah's "Cinderella" outfit which upset Kentucky's favored appecart in the final. The Wildcats did take the NIT title in 1946 with a 47-46 victory over Rhode Island State.

The 18,000 fans in Madison Square Garden could not quite believe what they saw.

But Rupp believed it. In fact, he believes City could do it to his team anytime. "That's one super ball club," Rupp said. "Even if we played them again tomorrow night we couldn't beat them. They definitely are the better team."

Trojans Lace Red Lion Hi Quintet 67-45

Chambersburg high, South Penn league champions, gained the finals of the District 3, Class A, PIAA playoffs for the seventh straight year by easily disposing of Red Lion, York county league entry, 67-45, Tuesday evening on the Gettysburg college floor.

The result surprised practically no one among the 1,200 fans who jammed into the gymnasium, Red Lion having finished fourth behind two Class C teams in the Northern Division of the York county league during the regular season.

Coach Lowell Schlichter's outfit will now clash with York, Central Pennsylvania league titlist, for the District title Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Hershey Sports Arena.

In Tuesday's game the Trojans left no doubt as to the ultimate outcome as they roared off to an early 8-1 lead, Red Lion failing to score a goal until after five minutes of play. At the quarter Chambersburg led 16-8 and a half time was ahead 32-17.

Coach Schlichter, who has plenty of capable reserves, dipped into his bench-strength in the third period with the jayvees playing out the remainder of the game.

VOTED AGAINST BILL

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Two Pennsylvania Congressmen, both Republicans, are reported to have voted against a Senate-passed $300,000,000 general federal aid to education bill. The bill died yesterday amid angry argument in the House Labor committee. Reported by a committee source as voting against the Senate bill were representatives McConnell and Kearns. Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) was reported to have voted for the bill.

The mishap occurred in a collision with Whitesox first baseman Herm Reich. In attempting to make a catch in the fourth inning Reich backed across the number one sack and bumped into Kiner. Ralph fell on his right hand. Pirate officials first feared Kiner's wrist was broken but x-rays showed no fracture.

About 1,300,000,000 pounds of butter are produced in the United States annually.

Hamline Banks On Tournament Savvy

Kansas City, March 15 (AP)—Defending champion Hamline university is depending heavily on tournament experience to bring it another National Intercollegiate (NAIB) basketball crown.

Coach Joe Hutton's Pied Pipers of St. Paul, Minn., have three stars in their lineup who are making their fourth appearance in the nation's No. 1 cage classic for small colleges. Hamlines meets Little Central (Mo.) college tonight in second-round play in the six-day tournament.

Westminster, Pa., college of New Wilmington, and Davis Elkins, of Elkins, W. Va., were paired at 3 p.m. (EST) in what was expected to be one of the better games of the second round. Each won its first start Monday.

Baseball Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Vero Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Pitchers Don Newcombe and Carl Erskine and second baseman Jackie Robinson are the newest members on the Brooklyn Dodgers' ailing list.

The two pitchers have sore arms and Robinson yesterday pulled up with a lame leg during the Brooklyn-Mobile exhibition game. Robbie aggravated an old pulled ligament in his left thigh and this could temporarily hold up his conditioning, since running is what he needs.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—Three New York Giants, including Manager Leo Durocher, are battling the flu germ. Slugging outfielder Bobby Thompson and infielder Roy Zimmerman are the other victims.

Durocher disregarded the advice of club physician Dr. Anthony Palermo and visited the field yesterday, but soon realized the doc was right and returned to his hotel quarters.

Sarasota, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Dave Ferris and Earl Johnson, two of the most likeable guys in baseball who had tough seasons last year, will get a pitching chance for the Boston Red Sox today against the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg. Vern Stephens, who has been in uniform only three days since ending his holdout, is listed to make the trip and may play shortstop. If Stevie plays Merrill Combs will be moved to third. Johnny Pesky still is resting an ailing muscle.

Lakeland, Fla., March 15 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers uncovered a Class A-1 pitching prospect Tuesday in beating the New York Yankees, 3-1, in an exhibition contest. The Bengals started 20-year-old Ray Herbert, a Detroit high school graduate, against the Yanks. And in the three innings he pitched, Herbert yielded only one hit.

Tucson, Ariz., March 15 (AP)—Bob Feller, who hopes to become a 20-game winner again this year, was set to make his first exhibition start for the Cleveland Indians today. Manager Lou Boudreau listed him for a four-inning start against the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast league. The Tribesmen returned to their home base after the New York Giants handed them a 5-3 beating yesterday in Phoenix.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees is giving young Ed Ford his first chance to pitch against major league batting today. Ford, a 21-year-old New Yorker who is rated a very promising prospect, is slated to try his left-handed slants against the Philadelphia Phillies in the exhibition game at Clearwater. Ford is to be followed on the mound by Duane Pillette and Don Johnson.

Clearwater, Fla., March 15 (AP)—President Robert R. M. Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies and his holdout catcher, Andy Seminick, probably will try again today to get together on Seminick's 1950 contract. Carpenter said last night Seminick had agreed in a telephone talk from his home in Elizabeth town, Tenn., to return to the Phils camp "to talk it over." Seminick went home last week with the two men reportedly $5,000 apart on the big catcher's contract.

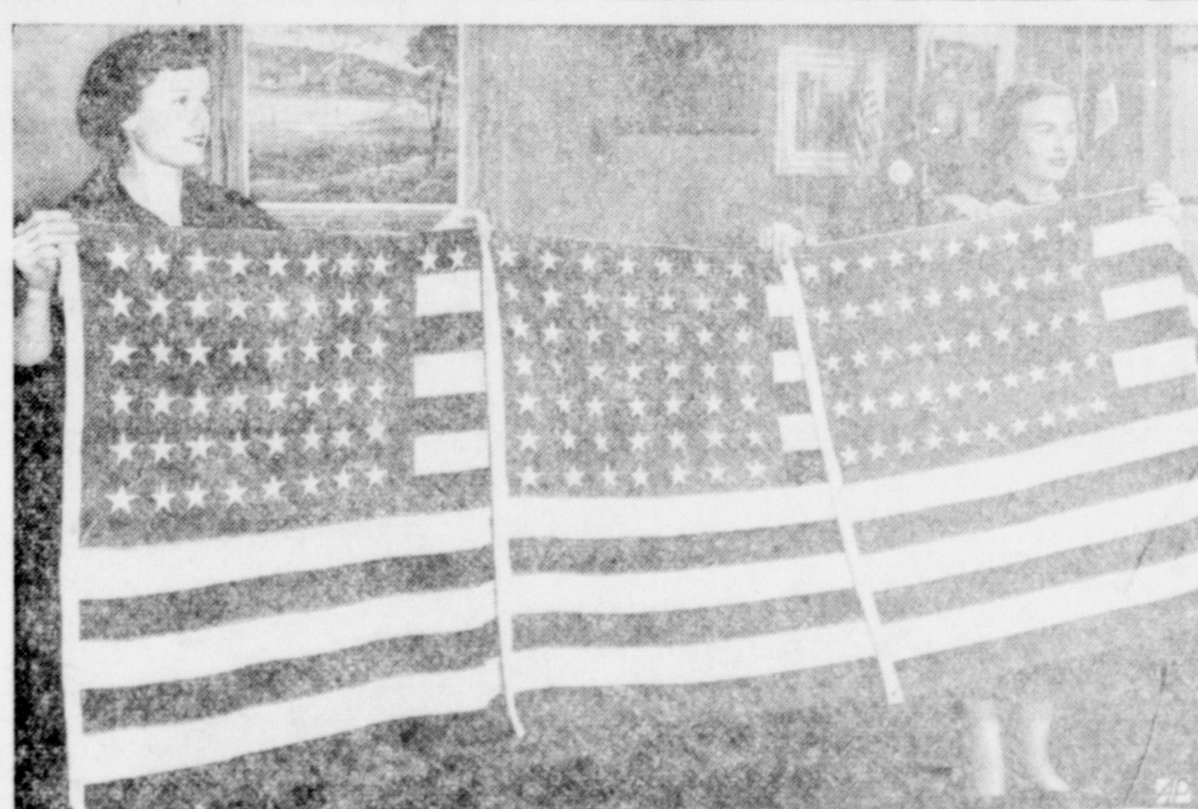

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 15 (AP)—Palm Wahi, rookie third baseman purchased from Montreal of the International league late last season, is expected to cover the hot-corner for the Philadelphia Athletics today when they play the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Wahl tentatively is scheduled to replace Bob Dillinger who pulled up with a charley horse in Sunday's game against Washington. The rookie also will hit in Dillinger's third-place slot in the batting order.

San Bernardino, Calif., March 15 (AP)—Home run slugger Ralph Kiner sprained his right wrist yesterday in the Pittsburgh Pirates' exhibition game with the Chicago Whitesox. Kiner will be out of the Buc lineup anywhere from two days to a week.

The mishap occurred in a collision with Whitesox first baseman Herm Reich. In attempting to make a catch in the fourth inning Reich backed across the number one sack and bumped into Kiner. Ralph fell on his right hand. Pirate officials first feared Kiner's wrist was broken but x-rays showed no fracture.

About 1,300,000,000 pounds of butter are produced in the United States annually.

Dot Carley (left) and Ann Kingsley hold sample flags with 49 and 50 stars designed at a Verona, N. J., flag-making plant to show what the American flag may look like if Alaska or Hawaii or both become states. These flags, based on designs suggested by the public, show (left) how two additional stars can be added on top stripe; (center) possible arrangement of 49 stars in the field, and (right) a possible arrangement for 50 stars.

SCHOOL CAGERS FETED; JUDGE SHEELY SPEAKER

Continued participation in athletics as a means of moulding character for future life was urged upon the members of the Gettysburg and Biglerville high school and junior high school basketball squads by speakers at a testimonial banquet tendered the squads Tuesday evening by the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks at the Elks home on York street.

Judge W. C. Sheely, principal speaker, said that in his 15 years of experience of dealing with young people he has found that the athletically-minded youths are not so likely to get into trouble. He said that he has found that young persons who have a lack of church training, lack of school activities and Boy Scout training, and those who quit school before graduation are those most likely to encounter trouble.

Training for athletics was compared to the training for life by Judge Sheely. He pointed out the value of teamwork, respect for other teams, and sportsmanship in later life. He challenged the group not to seek an easy life but to have continued faith and a sense of achievement in how their life's problems are met.

Other Speakers

Henry T. Bream, Gettysburg college coach, told the athletes to go all-out in practice and in whatever they do. That training usually typifies their efforts in later endeavors, he added.

Charles Kennedy, coach of the Dickinson college basketball team, spoke briefly in adding his congratulations of other speakers to the fine records established this year by the squads represented.

Short remarks were made by Johnny Yovincin, Jack Shainline and Clyde Cole, of the college coaching staff; Guile W. Lefever, principal of Gettysburg high school, and Arthur Gordon, Biglerville athletic director.

The program opened with the singing of one verse of "America" by the entire assembly which was followed by the pledge of allegiance. The invocation was offered by Warren Dunn, Sr., lodge chaplain.

Glenn L. Bream, exalted ruler of the lodge, presided as toastmaster. After offering congratulations to the teams for their successful campaigns, Mr. Bream introduced the coaches who in turn introduced their players individually.

Coaches present were: George Forney, Gettysburg high; Howard Shoemaker, assistant coach; Rogers Herr, junior high; Eugene Haas, Biglerville, and Hobart Benschoff, Biglerville junior high.

Also guests at the dinner were the lodge officers, trustees, directors and members of the entertainment committee.

PIRATE SETUP RATED PERFECT BY M'KINNEY

San Bernardino, Cal., March 15 (AP)—Frank McKinney, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, says he's satisfied with the progress being made toward the goal the owners set themselves when they bought the club three years ago.

"Our setup now gives us the opportunity to separate the wheat from the chaff," McKinney said. "The results over the past two seasons have been toward that young team each club strives for—but has a tough time finding."

"The average age of our club last season was 30 years. We are down to 28 this season."

"Next year we will lop another two years off the average and be down to 26."

"I feel we have the perfect farm setup now. With the addition of Charleston, S. C., in the Sally league, we have added the middle classifica-

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

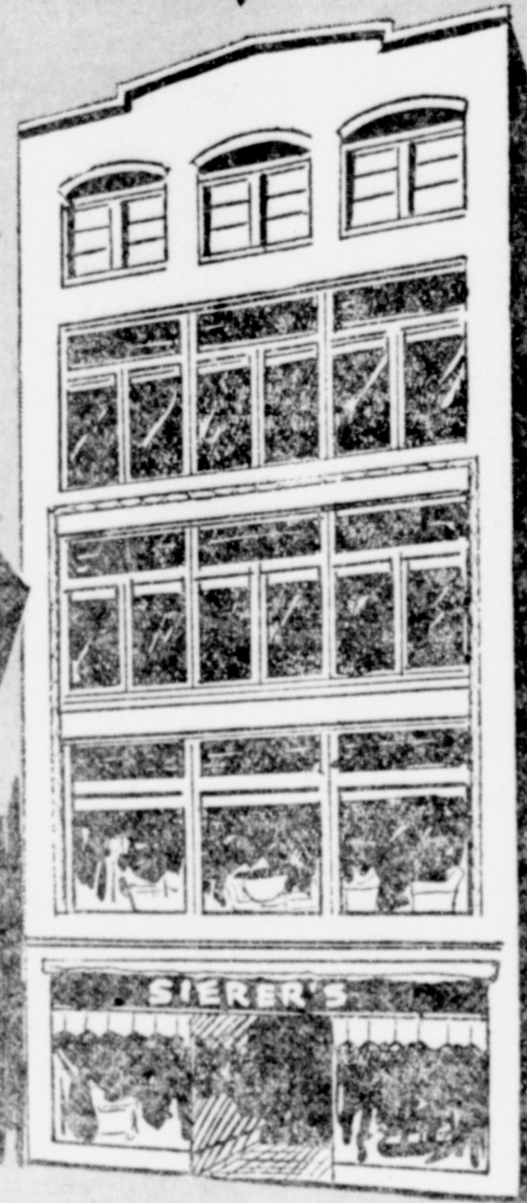

New York, March 15 (AP)—Tired?

overworked? Tell you need a rest after filling out your income tax blanks? . . . Bud, you ain't done nothin'. Listen to Lou Little reminding about his pro football days . . .

"In my last season, 1923," says Lou, "I played 26 games. It wasn't as bad as it sounds . . . we (the Frankford Yellow Jackets) would play the Bears or Akron or Jim Thorpe's Canton Indians—one of the National league teams—on Saturday; then I'd go to Wilkes-Barre and play on Sunday. The teams up there weren't too good and they were a little scared of our reputation, so we could loaf a bit . . . at the same time I was coaching four teams. During the week I'd coach the Navy-yard receiving station and Abington high school. On Friday morning some of the Frankford crowd would come in and we'd practice. Abington played Friday afternoon. Saturday the Yellow Jackets would work out in the morning and play in the afternoon. Then I'd go up to Wilkes-Barre to coach and play on Sunday. . . . I also coached the U.S.S. Richmond for a while when it came in to play for the fleet championship. That made five teams . . . but in those days you were young, strong and ambitious and you didn't think you were doing anything unusual. Anything to make a few dollars."

Inter-Faculty Club Meeting: The

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

A UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE

There is a language of the heart that is a universal language. And it is a language that even dumb beasts and birds often can understand. The philosopher Pascal once wrote that "the heart has its reasons of which reason knows nothing."

The material affairs of this life are for the intellect, but not the heart.
In a discussion of the arts of poetry,
painting and music, William Blake is quoted as saying that these were the "three powers in man of conversing with Paradise."

Who is there among us, who is a lover of these arts, who doesn't fluently converse with each one when in contact with any of them?
I've all noted four small boys, with arms locked about one another, in the National Gallery of Art, in Washington, standing for a long time before a great master's painting, without uttering a word. There was a language being expressed, but it was a silent one.

Never have I listened to the violin playing of Fritz Kreisler without feeling that these magic tones came from his heart, as well as from the heart of his instrument. The speech of music and poetry is of all nature and the heart, and if you will look long into the coloring and form of a great masterpiece of painting you will soon feel the language that it expresses.

Without the beauty, the enchantment, and the spiritual enrichment of this universal language of the heart, as expressed in the arts of life, we would be poor indeed. It is essential that we should partake of them. It was meant that we should. How small is our faith, how scant our hope, without an appreciation of them. Said Tolstoy: "Art is a great matter, and it's task is enormous."

There is a musical rhythm to the wind, gestures to the movement of the trees, and a voice to every color in nature—each in language-contact to the human heart. Never does a great poem, painted masterpiece, or a musical composition grow old!
Each is an inheritance for the ages.
Each forever interpreting itself through the universal language of the heart.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Quality."

Just Folks

UNCHANGABLE

The garden catalog appears With little change throughout the years.

I see, whenever I run it through,
The simple flowers the mother knew.

This spring's apple bloom will be Like that which decked her favorite tree.

The pictured hollyhocks recall
The ones beside her garden wall.
In this year's catalog I view
Her larkspur blossoms just as blue,
And this spring's lilac bloom will hold

The self-same fragrance as of old.

Could she return, since customs change,

She'd come into a country strange,
Devices doing service where

She toiled for hours with loving care.

Only the flowers would be the same Old friends which she could call by name.

She'd find the mignonette this year
Like that she loved when she was here.

Tulips and daffodils she'd know
Still as they were so long ago,
And she would smile to see once more

The purple lilac near the door.

Building Ideas For Home Owners Of This Community

4-Room House In Low-Priced Class

Any family hoping to build a small, comparatively low priced house may well consider the plans for the "Point Judith" introduced by the Home of the Week Plan Service.

This is a bungalow with a well-laid-out kitchen, a living room with fireplace and picture window, two bedrooms, a bathroom and six well-located closets. The house has a full basement. The outside dimensions are 31x28 feet and the cubic content, 15,800 feet.

Anticipating that someone might wish to build a garage at the side, connected with the house by a breezeway, the architects have prepared an alternate floor plan in which the service entry from the kitchen is placed at the side instead of at the rear. No matter which plan is used, the house will have the same number of rooms.

Distinctive Lines

The setbacks on the front of the house, at the central entrance, give distinctive lines to the "Point Judith." The small vestibule with coat closet created by the setback is a much more practical idea than having the front door open directly into the living room.

The living room measures 17x13 feet and has a fireplace centered in the long inside wall, with a built-in bookcase abutting on one side. A door at the other side of the fireplace leads into a rear, L-shaped hall connecting with the other rooms. In both floor plans, a linen closet opens off this hall.

Each bedroom has a good sized clothes closet and windows on two sides.

The location of the stairway is changed in the alternate plan.
The outside walls of a house such as this may be of brick, stone or cinder block or may be shingled or clapboarded. The low room eliminates any possibility of adding extra rooms in the attic. The attic, incidentally, should be insulated over all room ceilings and ventilating louvers should be placed in the gable ends.

The "Point Judith" could be built on a lot with a 50-foot frontage but a wider lot is preferable.

Complete plans and specifications for this "Home of the Week," or any other design of this series, are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents,
write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 18, The Gettysburg Times, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Crack Around Window Can Waste Much Fuel

When awnings are taken down for the winter they should be carefully inspected and repaired. Some seams invariably need retitching. For this, only the best quality waxed thread
should be used.

After repairs are made, awnings should be washed with mild soap and thoroughly rinsed. Metal parts should be lightly oiled. Never fold awnings for storage. It is best to hang them on racks as free from folds as possible.

Lawn Care Around The Year

Within the reach of every home owner is a beautiful, verdant lawn. Proper starting and care are simple and not at all costly or extremely laborious tasks. Therefore, the editor invites interested readers to send him a self-addressed stamped envelope or a 3-cent stamp for a free copy of our simplified lawn building and care instructions. Write for this today. There is important work to be done in the lawn at once. Too, include all the related questions desired.

Bookcase Serves As Wall Decoration

People rarely think of the bookcase as a wall decoration; they regard bookcases only as furniture and a place in which to store books.

A bookcase built into the wall and made a part of the decorative scheme of that wall, provides one of the most beautiful of decorative treatments.

The bookcase, when filled with books, takes on the aspect of a tapestry, for the many colored backs of books, when massed close together and standing flush with the wall, bring color, warmth and vividness into the room.

Bookcases should always be made a subordinate part of the wall decoration and never the main motif they may be built on either side of a fireplace, a window or a doorway.

When remodeling or modernizing, older houses with awkward spaces and corners, rows of built-in hel-ves will add to the informal and homelike atmosphere.

Cedar Closet Doors Must Close Tightly

Closets lined with red-cedar wood, as they are ordinarily installed, are of doubtful value in protecting clothing from moth attack. Usually the closets are not tightly enough constructed to retain the emanations from the cedar wood in sufficient strength to kill the worms.

The mere odor of cedar does not keep moths from crawling or flying into a closet or from damaging the clothing or furs. In justice to red-cedar wood, it should be stated that closets very tightly constructed with the red heart wood and equipped with doors that close tightly against felt gaskets can be depended upon to protect against moth attack.

Clapboards Continue As Popular Siding

Clapboards are still one of the most popular sidings, especially on Cape Cod or Colonial style homes.
Wide widths of six to ten inches are used to good effect on the popular ranch-type house and in variations on almost every kind of home.

Although clapboards of red cedar, redwood and white pine are most widely used, they are not limited to wood, being made now to asbestos, metal and other fire-resistant materials.

USE OF GLUE

To prevent glue cracking when repairing furniture, add sawdust about the texture and fineness of flour to the glue. This sawdust can be obtained at most paint stores.

Philadelphia, March 15 (AP)—Federal Judge George A. Welsh today imposed fines totaling $510 on the Laurel Hosiery company, Reading,
Pa., the Supreme Hosiery company,
Jersey Shore, Pa., and Edward J.

Fire Retardant Paint Available

Householders can thank the Navy for a new fire-retardant paint just on the market.

Developed during the war, the secret formula was released last August. The paint, now on the market for the first time, is highly recommended by fire chiefs and the Underwriters laboratories.

It's a white paint that can be used in any shade, and used either as an undercoat on any surface.
The experts suggest its use around the four danger spots in the average house.

These are: (1) The joints and walls around the heating unit. (2) In the attic, especially near heating flues.
(3) In the garage where most fires start. (4) In areas surrounding basement rubbish piles or storage bins.

The crack around the average window sash is equal in space to the size of a common brick. In the average home, this means the total space from which heat can escape is equal to 22 bricks or a hole big enough for a person to crawl through.

Such leaks should be stopped with weather-stripping. If this is done and storm windows are installed, fuel savings for each window so protected each season will amount to 160 pounds of coal, 8½ gallons of fuel oil, or 12 gas therms. In the average house with 22 windows, this means more than a ton of coal, 187 gallons of oil or 294 gas therms.

Lerch, president of Laurel and general manager of Supreme, on charges of violating the Fair Labor statutes.
The defendants entered a plea of no defense February 28.

McARTHY SHOW STRANGE SIGHT IN WASHINGTON

Washington, March 15 (AP)—This is a strange show here—the hearings of Senator McCarthy's attack on the loyalty of present and former employes of the State Department.

No one is predicting how long the hearings will continue. The Wisconsin Republican, McCarthy, hasn't finished reading his list of people upon whom he's casting suspicion.

The five members of the Foreign Relations committee's subcommittee, which is conducting the hearings, are now sort of sitting back, letting McCarthy roll off the names.

Movie lights make the room brilliant. Cameras are busy. Newsmen line both sides of two long tables.
Police-men keep traffic moving through the door.

People are continually moving in,
standing or finding seats, and leaving. The big room in the senate office building is packed with them.
Every chair is taken.

The dark-haired and heavy-browed McCarthy, a former marine, bends his head over his lists and reads on, naming names. Newsmen hurry from their tables to send out bulletins on their wires.

Those news bulletins flash around the country. Other newsmen in other places see the McCarthy charges and if one of the charges lives nearby, he's quickly asked for a statement.

Back across the country flow the denials of the people McCarthy has just named. It's "boring," one says.

"Fantastic," says another. "Mc-Carthy is a cowardly liar," says another.

To Get Chance To Answer

People listed as suspects by Mc-Carthy will be given a chance to answer him in front of the same subcommittee and the lights and cameras.

One of them, Miss Dorothy Kenyon who testified yesterday and flatly denied McCarthy's charges against her, spoke of the damage to her reputation and wondered whether her denials could ever catch up with McCarthy's charges against her.

Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, a Republican colleague of McCarthy, questioned Miss Kenyon and then said he has no doubt about her loyalty.

Not A One-Way Street

Whether the other charges, if they come here to state their case, will make out well remains to be seen, but, of course, this isn't a one-way street for McCarthy.

When he undertook to throw suspicion on the loyalty of a number of Americans, he was sticking his neck away out. If he can back up his charges, he's done a public service in uncovering disloyalty.

But if it turns out that he can't back them up, the public memory is long, and, although McCarthy doesn't have to run for re-election until 1932, this situation probably will not be forgotten.

SET STAGE FOR MORALS PROBE IN FILMLAND

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The Senate Commerce committee set the stage today for a mid-April airing of Hollywood filmland morals. Its angry chairman, Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), was in the director's chair.

John, who erupted in the Senate yesterday about the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini romance, told a reporter the motion picture industry is going to be called on the carpet to explain why the morals of some of its stars aren't better.

"I'm not a prude or a Puritan and I love good movies," Johnson said. "But it seems to me the industry is getting to the point where all an actor has to do is get arrested for something or get messed up in some immoral affair and stardom is guaranteed."

Called "Police State Bill"

The Motion Picture Producers association fired back in a statement saying that Hollywood has no more than its share of people who violate the moral code. It said further that Johnson's proposed method of attacking the situation would menace American freedoms and was "a police state bill."

Johnson proposed crack-down legislation under which every American actor and producer would have to be licensed by a Commerce Department bureau and a $10,000 permit obtained for interstate shipment of every motion picture.

Actors and producers could be denied licenses if they had been convicted on morals charges or admitted committing acts "constituting the essential elements of a crime involving moral turpitude."

"Lively Stable Humor"

Last night, the radio and television industries came in for some public criticism also. Chairman Wayne Coy of the Federal Communications Commission said in an Oklahoma speech it was time for them to clean house in the matter of crime programs and "lively stable humor."

If broadcasters don't act, he said, public opinion will demand "the more drastic remedy of governmental action."

A movie fan of 40 years standing, Johnson criticized what he called the "nauseating commercialism" of RKO studios in releasing the picture "Stromboli" about the time Miss Bergman gave birth to Rossellini's son. Bergman was the star, Rossellini the director.

"An All-time Low"

He said that action "sets an all-time low in shameless exploitation and disregard for good public morals."

The senator's broadcast brought quick response from RKO. In Hollywood, a studio spokesman came to the support of "Stromboli" but offered no defense to the shots directed at Miss Bergman.

"There is plenty of censorship in the United States today," the spokesman said. "And even the most severe of these existing censorship bodies have approved the picture 'Stromboli' and have seen fit to judge it upon the contents of the picture, not upon the private lives of the artists associated with it."

Home Girl

Chapter 22

Anne never told anyone how near she had come to complete defiance of her father that September night. After all, who was there to tell? She had never had any real confidants in her life except her father and to a certain extent Tony and then Don. All men.

Perhaps there was only one person to whom she needed to talk that night, and she tried to reach that one person—and failed.

Roger refused coffee and went up to his library to write letters. Anne kissed the boys, who were to help Mary, and went to the corner drug store to use the telephone. There might be things to say that couldn't be said over the house phone.

But she didn't reach Don. Later she was to wonder how different her life might have been if she had reached Don instead of his mother. She didn't ask for Mrs. Carey, but whoever answered the phone put her on when she asked for Don and said Anne Blake was calling. She had never spoken to Mrs. Carey before. She had expected a society voice from Adele's description, but the voice that flowed over the wire to her was merely a low, quiet, gentle voice saying how glad she was to speak to Anne Blake and that she wondered when the girl would come out to see her.

Anne was surprised. "You're very kind, Mrs. Carey. You probably know I didn't get married today, so I'm still nurse to my sister's twins."

"I mean that you should come with the boys, of course. I fell in love with them at sight the one time they were here. Could you come tomorrow and spend the week-end? I'll have your sister and her husband over and we shall be quite gay. Don't think or wonder but just say yes."

It was a warm invitation. But acceptance meant defiance of her father. She answered gently.

"I'm so sorry, Mrs. Carey. Father isn't too well and I'm sure he'd like us to stay with him."

"Couldn't he come, too? Would it help if I called and asked him?"

"I'm afraid I had rather you didn't. Please don't think me rude."

"I'm quite sure you couldn't be rude, Anne Blake. I think you are a wonderful brave girl. My son certainly does."

"Could I speak to Don, please?"

"That's the trouble. He left for a ranch today. I don't know where, because he wasn't sure himself. But we'll know in a few days. Now may I be officious and ask if there is anything I can do?"

"Thank you, Mrs. Carey, there isn't anything. I only wanted to talk."

"I like to listen. If you wish I could be with you in an hour."

"It really isn't anything. I wouldn't want to disturb you."

"Would it help any if I told you that the two dogs are here with me right now, but that they are very sad and I know where they want to be?"

"Yes. That does help. Thank you so much."

She said good-bye as quickly as she could.

Home again, she found the twins helping Mary stoically. When she suggested candy they declined, to her amazement. When she tried to joke and ask if they were sick they said no, just tired. She took their hands and took them into the back parlor to kiss Grandfather good night. Roger was sitting with a volume of Shakespeare upside down in his hand. The twins kissed him dutifully without reluctance but also without enthusiasm. She started them up to their room and Roger called her back. His voice held a strange lifelessness.

"You all think you hate me, don't you?"

"Certainly not, Father."

"Why did you go out a little while ago?"

"To telephone."

"Were you afraid I would listen in on the extension up here?"

"Not exactly. I wanted to talk privately."

"You've never done that before, Anne."

"I probably never shall again."

"And what did Don say?"

PUBLIC SALE

Said lot is bounded on the East by land of one Burns, on the West by lands now or formerly of Martha Markle, on the North by the State Highway aforesaid, on the South by a public alley. Improved with 2½-story frame dwelling, garage and outbuildings. Said house is adaptable for use by two families.

The terms and conditions of the same will be made known at the time thereof by the undersigned.

FLORENCE V. JAGO, J. P. Y. & Co., Attys.

"I didn't talk to him. He has gone out West. I talked to his mother. She invited us all up there but I told her you weren't feeling too well."

"You were afraid I would forbid you to go?"

"Not afraid. Father. Just anxious to forget all this ever happened."

"I'm not sure I like the way you say that."

"I'm sorry, but I can't say it any other way. And I'm tired too."

She heard Roger go to bed in his back bedroom and then the house was very still. Normally she was a perfect sleeper. But tonight was different. She lay wondering not if Celia and Tony would be happy—somehow she didn't doubt that at all—but if the doors were in their little houses up in the country. Was Don in a plane or a train? Who would ride the bicycles now? Above all, would the twins wake her up tomorrow morning with their happy laughter or was that all a thing of the past?

She put on a dressing gown and began to read. But she couldn't concentrate. A light tap on her door made her smile a little. She went to open it and found Roger, looking huge in his white pajamas. She yielded to impulse and kissed his weary face.

"Can't you sleep, Father? Shall I fix you some warm milk?"

"I saw your light under the door. I was worried."

"Never worry about me." She chuckled. "I tried to read and couldn't, so I thought things through. I know now that I never loved Tony. I am glad things have gone this way. Now you and the twins and I can be quite happy in our good old house. All we need is plenty of oil for the winter."

"And you don't hate me?"

"Good Heavens, what a question! Just for that you get Ovaltine. I'll go right down and fix it."

He caught her hand. "I don't need anything except your love. I could go after Don and bring him back if you love him."

She laughed. "I love only you and you know it. Now for the Ovaltine."

John Law, coach at Mount Saint Mary's college, was the guest speaker for the evening.

It was suggested at the meeting that a more definite program in the schools in examining the students to find defective hearing or sight is desirable.

JOHN LAW IS CLUB SPEAKER

At the regular meeting of the Lions club on Monday evening there were 28 members and one guest, Prof. Dominic Greco, present. Robert Daugherty, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

It was reported that the program committee has programs for the next three or four meetings planned. Representatives including John Payne, Lumen Norris, E. R. Shriver, E. L. Annan, Jr., Morris Zentz, Charles Fuss, Ralph McDonnell, George Wilfide, Prof. Arvin P. Jones, Lewis Cooper, Charles Spriggs, John Hollinger, Arthur Elder and Robert Daugherty, attended the joint meeting, held at Thurmont, of members of both the Thurmont and Emmitsburg Lions clubs to discuss the Route 15 project, which is a matter of great concern to members of both communities. The committee for the project for Emmitsburg consists of E. L. Annan, Jr., Arthur Elder, and Charles Harner. The two clubs plan to work cooperatively and determine what can be done and then submit their findings and ideas to the commissioners.

John Law, coach at Mount Saint Mary's college, was the guest speaker for the evening.

It was suggested at the meeting that a more definite program in the schools in examining the students to find defective hearing or sight is desirable.

Youth Will Face Charge Of Murder

Honesdale, Pa., March 15 (AP)—Leo Corby, 19-year-old farmhand charged with murder in the death of Maurice Lippert, 45, of nearby Aldenville, must stand trial during the April 17 session of Wayne county court. Judge Edward Little has ruled.

Corby is accused of shooting Lippert after a love affair with Lippert's 42-year-old wife, Bertha.

The jurist's ruling came yesterday after the district attorney's office called a report by a sanity commission appointed to examine Corby "very ambiguous."

The commission found that while Corby was not "mentally insane" he had the mentality of a child and had no capacity for judgment, was incapable of conducting his social affairs, had no moral perception and had criminal tendencies.

Burglars Refuse To Heed Signs

Cumberland, Md., March 15 (AP)—A couple of burglars either can't read or like to pull a job the hard way.

They broke into a safe here yesterday, after hacking at the handle and finally removing the pins from the safe's door hinges.

The loot was a razor and 20 cents. On the side of the battered safe the company had painted:

"No money inside."

And beneath that—the combination.

And M Geologist Is Killed In Crash

Downingtown, Pa., March 15 (AP)—A collision of a station wagon, automobile and oil truck three miles east of Downingtown last night killed Dr. Harvey Bessler, 67.

Dr. Bessler, Franklin and Marshall research geologist from Myers-town in Lebanon county, was riding in a station wagon driven by Rudolph P. Hommel, 65, of Richlandtown in Bucks county. Hommel is in a critical condition in Chester County hospital.

Lewis Kishbaugh of the Coatesville state police barracks said Joseph J. Skelly, media contractor, had stopped his car on the highway. As he opened the door, the station wagon hit the car door and swerved into the oncoming oil truck.

Barney Forrester, Malvern, driver of the oil truck was not injured.

LABORITES WIN THIRD TEST ON NARROW MARGIN

London, March 15 (AP)—Britain's Conservative government last night beat a Socialist attempt in parliament to upset the Socialist regime.

The Tories successfully attacked Laborite spending policies.

The motion of censure by opposition leader Winston Churchill was defeated 304 to 289, giving the Laborites a winnitude margin of 19.

The Conservative attack was indirectly aimed at Laborite handling of the nation's vast health scheme—leaders of which had asked for extra appropriations over the amounts of their 1949-1950 budget.

May Cut Health Service

But before the vote was taken Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons a halt would be called to expansion of the National Health service. He also warned other departments to adhere to their budgets.

Various government departments had asked for an extra £148,402,365 ($415,526,622) for the year ending March 31. Of this amount more than half was demanded by the National Health service headed by the fiery left-winger in the Labor party, Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan.

Sir Stafford, defending the government, hinted that the health service might even be cut in the future. He said: "We must bring expenditure on health into its proper proportion with food subsidies."

US GOVERNMENT TRAINS GUNS ON "TAX DODGERS"

Washington, March 15 (AP)—The government trained its guns on tax dodgers—past and future alike—as it came up to the 1949 income tax payment deadline at midnight tonight.

To get help in bringing to light new evasion attempts, it dangled before prospective tax informers a $500,000 pool of funds available this year for evidence uncovering tax frauds.

To mop up on cases involving income massed in the war profit year of 1943, it asked grand juries over the country to rush indictments today lest the law's time-lapse limits bar further action. An indictment, or some other form of action such as the filing of a bill of complaint, has to be in the record by midnight to get within the time limit as to 1943 returns.

Opportunities For Informers
As for informers, they will have a chance to ring up a record haul this year for the third year in a row.

There are more than 40,000,000 persons subject to the federal income tax. How many will try to cut corners is just a guess.

Last year was a big year for informers—and the government.

The government paid out $449,904 to 97 informers, in rewards ranging from $25.86 to $47,072, for aid that led to the recovery of $9,187,514 in taxes that otherwise would have escaped detection.

That completely overshadowed the previous record tallied in 1948, when informers' rewards totaled $99,975 and led to recoveries totaling $2,351,000.

Biggest Haul $80,000

The main reason for tax informers—patriotic desire to prevent evasions, disgruntlement of employees with their bosses, family feuds and jealousies, and women scorned—endure in peace as well as in war.

The biggest reward to date, $80,000 that was split among three people, came in a case where the government recovered $2,600,000 back in the depressed mid-1930s.

Bureau records show, incidentally, that hard times bring in more tips—either because desire for extra cash promotes informing or because tension makes people less tolerant of others' misdeeds.

Youths Unhurt As Small Plane Falls

Pottstown, Pa., March 15 (AP)—A small training plane brushed a tree, nicked a corner of a house and crashed in a field at nearby Stowe, but its two young occupants stepped from the wreckage with hardly a scratch.

The survivors of the crash yesterday were identified by police as Charles Suhr, 19, of Oil City, Pa., and William Parsons, 16, of Glenwood, N. M., both students at Hill school.

Officials at the Pottstown airport said the single-engine, two-seater plane got caught in a sudden shifting wind at a height of 50 feet, shortly after the take off.

GMC PROFITS HIT NEW PEAK

New York, March 15 (AP) — The General Motors Corporation announced Monday that its profits had reached a record of $656,434,232 in 1949 and that its payroll had soared to a new peak of $1,440,690,450.

The firm's annual report to its 434,000 stockholders also disclosed that production, sales and tax payments had hit record highs.

The 1949 earnings were equivalent to $14.64 a share of common stock. This compared with the previous high of $9.72 a share in 1948, when profits reached $440,447,724.

Discussing the increased sales volume, the report expressed belief "the potential market for new cars has been permanently expanded."

The report pointed out that the adult population of the United States in 1949 was nearly 10 per cent greater than in 1941 and about 27 per cent greater than in 1929. "In addition," the report said, "there was a change in income distribution which brought more family units into the medium and higher income classes. Thus, more people could afford to buy new cars in 1949 than before the war."

"There still exists a backlog of deferred demand," said the report. "However, once this backlog has been satisfied, operations are not likely to continue at a peak rate."

Soft Coal Prices Up 25 Cents A Ton

Pittsburgh, March 15 (AP) — The soft coal strike may be over, but its effects keep cropping up. Soft coal prices today are up an average of 25 cents a ton.

Hard coal prices increased too. In some instances they've gone up as much as 75 cents a ton. The coal operators say increased costs are responsible.

The pattern was set for the soft coal industry yesterday by its top producers, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company. It hiked wholesale prices 10 to 25 cents a ton.

George H. Love, president of the firm, said the increases reflect "part of the increased labor costs in the mining of coal."

Frankfurt, Germany, March 15 (AP) — In a faint, sobbing whisper, pretty Mrs. Yvette Madsen testified in her own defense Tuesday that she could remember nothing of the gunshot that killed her fier husband last October.

On trial for the murder of her husband, Lt. Andrew E. Madsen, the 22-year-old brunette has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. "I think I was drunk," Mrs. Madsen testified while telling of a party which preceded the shooting at the couple's home.

Helsinki, Finland, March 15 (AP) — President Juho Paasikivi asked Agrarian Leader Urho Kekkonen, speaker of the Finnish parliament, Tuesday to become premier at the head of a new coalition cabinet containing communists.

The move to include communists—out of the government since July, 1948—in a national unity cabinet was viewed as a move to answer recent Russian charges that Finland was pursuing an anti-Soviet policy and lining up with the west.

Harrisburg, March 15 (AP) — The Liquor Control board, invoking its right of appeal to the State Superior court, sought Tuesday to upset decisions of two county courts in reducing penalties imposed by the board. The board asked the Appellate court to reverse rulings by the Allegheny and Cambria county courts. The board had revoked the license for violation of regulations. The two courts reduced the penalty to 90-day suspensions.

Harrisburg, March 15 (AP)—A campaign charge that the State Highway department is being "dragged bodily into partisan politics" was termed Tuesday as "too ridiculous to answer" by Ray F. Smock, secretary of highways.

The charge was made by U. S. Rep. John C. Kunkel, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator. Smock is supporting Gov.

James H. Duff, who seeks the same GOP nomination at the May 16 primary.

It is estimated that 1,500,000,000 baby chicks are hatched annually in the United States, the majority of them in spring.

KING LEOPOLD FACES TOUGH, FATEFUL CHOICE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the toughest decisions a man could face was that called for from exiled King Leopold III of the Belgians in Switzerland yesterday by Belgian Prime Minister Gaston Eyskens.

Sunday's plebiscite in Belgium showed 57.63 per cent of those voting desired Leopold to return to his capital and resume his throne. Now Eyskens wanted to know His Majesty's desire. There were two alternatives:

1. The King could signify a wish to accept this vote as a mandate from the people for him to return.

2. He could turn the tiny majority down as too small, and abdicate in favor of Crown Prince Baudouin.

Many observers held that the second alternative was, from almost any angle one viewed it, the logical one to choose. Indeed, the Prime Minister was reported so to have advised the King at the outset of their fateful meeting.

Why this harsh second alternative, which meant that Leopold must sacrifice his birthright? A majority had voted for him.

Well, the true answer lies in that tiny majority.

Only One Reason

In these days of democracy there is only one reason for the existence of a king. He is the emblem of unity—high above politics—binding together all classes and parties and creeds.

A king must have the love and support of all his people—not half, or three-quarters but all of them. Approval of 57.63 per cent of the voters isn't good enough by a long shot, or of 75 per cent or of any number much less than the absolute maximum.

There are strong divisions in the Belgian population—political, racial, religious. If the country's constitutional monarchy is to be a success the king must be above these differences, in truth an emblem of unity.

Washington, March 15 (AP)—Harold Christoffel, former Milwaukee labor leader, was sentenced Tuesday to from two to six years in prison on a charge of lying to a congressional committee.

Christoffel was convicted last month for a second time on a perjury charge. A federal court jury found he had lied when he denied under oath to the House Labor committee that he had ever been a Communist.

Biglerville Merchants Offer Many Opportunities

Hewetson Reports Results Of Tests Of Many Varieties Of Peaches For Canning, Freezing

Work of Frank N. Hewetson, 114 East York Street, Biglerville, in experiments with canned and frozen peaches at the South Mountain Fruit Research laboratory is outlined in an article written by Mr. Hewetson in the January issue of "Science for the Farmer," a publication of Pennsylvania State College.

"Results of rather comprehensive tests show the improved quality of many of the newer varieties (of peaches) over the older ones both for canning and for freezing," Hewetson notes in his article. "Triogen, Sunhigh and July Elberta ranked at or near the top, while Golden Jubilee and commercial packs were at the bottom in four comparisons conducted during two recent marketing seasons."

Some of the difference may be accounted for by the normal seasonal variations of fruit quality, he notes, and then continues: "In order to obtain information on the quality of different varieties of peaches as they come from cans or frozen storage, as many of the newer varieties as obtainable were processed along with older ones for comparison. The varieties were canned and frozen under home conditions. The different varieties were obtained from a number of commercial orchards and were harvested at or as near tree ripe condition as practical and then stored in a cool basement overnight and processed the next day. The individual fruits were selected for size and maturity in order to obtain a uniform pack as possible."

A point score system of judging was arranged and the samples were tested at different times by the technical staff of the two larger canning companies in Adams county, two groups of fruit growers and their wives and the horticulture department of State College. The results of the tests were then averaged to pick the best of the fruit.

"Elberta and commercial packs of clinton peaches were the basis of comparison in all the tests," Hewetson wrote. "In the canned lots, the outstandingly good varieties were Triogen, South Haven, Sunhigh, July Elberta and Halehaven. These peaches all had an excellent flavor and an attractive appearance when served. The Sunhigh and South Haven were clear yellow while Triogen, July Elberta and Halehaven had a strong peach color tinged with red around the pit. On the other hand, Golden Jubilee did not hold its shape, was ragged and rather tasteless and flat. The commercial pack was attractive, but the fruit tended to be somewhat leathery and lacked the delicate peach flavor of the experimental packs. Golden East, which was not packed the first year, showed up very well in the second year lot of peaches.

"The frozen lots were thawed out in the can, then opened and judged immediately. After being judged they were left standing for a day in order to find out how well they kept the original color. As in the canned lots, July Elberta, Triogen and Sunhigh made very good products, both as to appearance and quality. Golden Jubilee was again at the bottom of the list due to poor appearance, stringy texture and general lack of fruit flavor. Golden Jubilee, Sunhigh, July Elberta and Midway showed no browning 18 hours after being thawed out, while Triogen, South Haven and Packerman showed only a slight amount of browning after the same period. The other varieties in the test were entirely brown and impossible to use."

In comparing the same variety frozen and canned, Hewetson noted, "The frozen samples did have a slightly better appearance and quality than those canned. The cooking involved in the canned lots produced a slightly ragged appearance of the flesh while the frozen samples had a much smoother finish. The freezing procedure also retained more of the natural flavor of the peach. These differences however were only slight, both methods of preservation being entirely satisfactory."

Continuous Evaluation
The work of Hewetson as a pomologist at the South Mountain Fruit Research laboratory includes as one of the projects, a continuous evaluation of new varieties designed to help the fruit grower decide which varieties "will make him the most money and therefore which ones to plant."

The possibility of commercially processing peaches in Adams county has been discussed over a number of years by various processing companies. The work of Hewetson and experiments of the various processing plants may ultimately result in commercial canning of peaches here, fruit growers hope.

Zanesville, O., March 15 (AP)—Veteran Zanesville policemen were shocked Tuesday by stories of sex orgies involving at least 20 young people—most of them teenagers. A county-wide investigation of drinking and illicit sex relations was ordered by Assistant Prosecutor Christy Dunn.

BEAVER COUNTY AND JOHNSTOWN MARK SESQUICENTENNIAL

Beaver Falls, Pa., March 15 (AP)—Two of Pennsylvania's great industrial centers celebrate 150th birthdays this year.

Beaver county is holding its sesquicentennial celebration this week. The city of Johnstown plans a six-month fest starting in June.

Henry Hice Wilson, former president judge of Beaver county courts, made the principal address at Beaver county's birthday party at Beaver Falls. He said: "Our heritage of freedom is priceless—it belongs by right to all mankind."

To Dedicate Memorial

In Johnstown, a special committee is readying plans to commemorate that city's 150 years of progress. Highlight of the celebration will be the dedication of the war memorial recreation center. A combination arena and community center, the structure will be completed about October 1.

Theme of the half-year observance is "Johnstown—150 years of progress—what of the future?" The greater Johnstown committee for the sesquicentennial will use the event to tell the nation about the metropolis of Cambria county.

Committee members, recruited from the city's major civic organizations are promoting Johnstown's advantages as a place to live and work.

The Leechburg centennial executive committee has proposed a historical pageant depicting that community's century of progress to be held as part of Leechburg's centennial celebration this June.

Washington, March 15 (AP)—At least one, and possibly another, of President Truman's 21 new reorganization plans appeared today to be headed for plenty of trouble.

Many members who hastily informed themselves of the contents of the plans submitted on Monday didn't like the proposal to strip Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations board, of much of his present authority.

no circumstance wait longer than 72 hours. Have feed hoppers around from the first day on, but do not feed the mash starter until the third day. Rather feed for the first couple of days chick grain, and sprinkle this all over the brooder house space on top of the paper covered litter as explained in recent pointer. Have enough water fountains, and teach your chicks the first day of feeding how to drink by sticking their beaks into water. This will be only necessary for the first day, and you do not have to teach more than about 20 per cent of your chicks. After the third day, discontinue the chick grain and feed mash only.

The heat should be 95 degrees under the hover, two inches above the ground, and around 70 degrees in the brooder house. It is best to lower the temperature under the hover daily for one degree until the brooder temperature is down to 70, but because it is too complicated to regulate the thermostats this way, it is good to keep the 95 degrees for the first 10 days, and then lower it to 90 for the second 10 days, and down to 85 after they are about 3 weeks old. At 4 weeks you should lower the temperature to 80, and continue lowering every additional week until you hit the 70 degrees. Do not discontinue the brooder before 7 weeks, even when the days may be hot.

As a previous pointer gave recommendations on how to prepare the brooder house, this deals with the rearing of chicks.

As long as you do not produce on a very large scale it will not pay to mix your own feed. It will be much better to buy from a reliable mill, the so-called starter. It contains every nourishment which the chick needs except water. Do not add any chemicals to the drinking water. As long as your chicks are well and get fresh, clean water regularly, chemicals are not useful. A good practice is to disinfect your water fountains once a week. For the first two months there is no need of grit or anything else.

Since it is not advisable to feed chicks before they are 48 hours old, get exact information from your hatchery at what time your chicks were hatched. The best thing, when you get them younger than 48 hours old, is to leave them in their chick box until you feed them, but under hot

FIRST FACTS ABOUT FERTILIZERS

Too much emphasis is seldom placed on the important truth that commercial fertilizers are not and cannot be a substitute for natural soil fertility. This does not suggest that farmers, orchardists and gardeners should not in general increase their use of commercial plant foods, but it does stress the widespread need of more intimate knowledge in the simple yet complex roles of plant nutrition. Here are a few observations and recommendations relating to fertilizers: Commercial fertilizer pays its biggest dividends where the soil is naturally fertile, deeply porous, and abundantly mellowed with organic matter to hold moisture and stimulate maximum action of beneficial bacteria. Returns from commercial plant foods are, of course, least profitable where the soil is thin, hard and otherwise tired.

Fertilizers, as commonly purchased and used, contain three major nutrients — nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. The various strengths of these three materials are indicated by three numerals, expressing percentages. For example, a 4-12-8 mixture contains 4 per cent nitrogen, 12 per cent phosphorus, and 8 per cent potash. The remaining 76 percent is called "filler" an inert matter of little or no value to plants. To illustrate this same mixture in a more familiar manner: 100 pounds of a 4-12-8 strength fertilizer contains 4 pounds of nitrogen, 12 pounds of phosphorus, and 8 pounds of potash.

The true plant food contents of various kinds of livestock manure are sometimes over-estimated. Again for example, average horse manure contains slightly more than one-half percent nitrogen, just slightly less phosphoric acid and about the same amount of potash as nitrogen. Most authorities accept the formula for fresh horse manure as 5 to 7-3 to 5-5 to 6. To illustrate in weight, 100 pounds of fresh horse manure contains from one-half to seven-tenths pound of nitrogen, three tenths to one-half pound of phosphorus, and one-half to six-tenths pound of potash, a total of 1 1/2 to 1 4/5 pounds of actual plant nutrients. But of course, manures furnish what so many farm and garden soils lack—organic matter. This factor, too, must be taken into consideration in computing the value of manure.

Experience has long proved that lowered crop yields are more frequently the penalties for allowing soils to lose their organic matter than from lack of plant foods. The editor recently visited a farm where the present owner and operator is building the land back up after 100 years of inexcusable abuse and neglect. On part of the vegetable garden site he has turned under for three years nothing but finely shredded corn stalks. Last summer this particular area produced excellent crops of cabbage, snap beans, and cucumbers, while untreated (unimproved) test plots nearby were "burned out" by drought, although all crops were liberally fertilized. Organic matter was the difference.

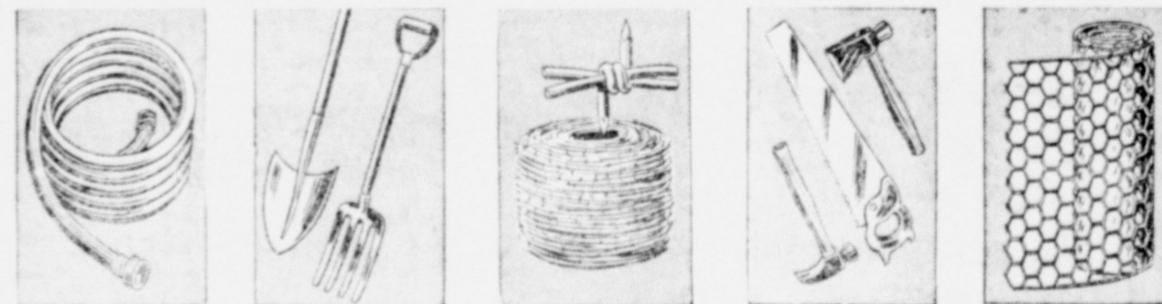

Nature has made all the productive soil on earth by mixing decayed vegetation with clay and sand. Tillable soil is and can be nothing else than variations of humus and clay and sand. But it is the decayed vegetation that makes the difference—the sole medium of all plant life. This is the first factor to emphasize in nourishing plants. Commercial fertilizers, as already stressed, cannot even in the remotest be used as a stimulant—most profitably effective where the soil is already fertile, mellow and deep.

METROPOLITAN EDISON PUSHES RURAL PROGRAM

Metropolitan Edison company's main program at present is for complete electrification of the farms in its area. It has been disclosed by company officials who say they expect 1950 to be the greatest year in the company's history.

The rural electrification program is being actively pushed. Currently between 70 and 75 per cent of the farms in the company's territory are completely electrified. The ME officials state their company has extended its rural lines to serve 93 per cent of its available rural customers. When the expansion program is completed in 1952, it will have electricity available for 100 per cent of the farmers in its territory.

It is anticipated new record highs in 1950 in the sale of electricity, in revenue and in earnings. Last year the Reading company established new peaks for revenue and net income although its sales of electricity declined to 1,373,816.881 kw-hrs. from an all-time high of 1,379,989,129 in 1948. The drop was due to the softening which the cement industry experienced last year and to the steel strike.

The seeming paradox of smaller sales of electricity and greater revenue is explained by the fact that its industrial customers, who accounted for 54.4 per cent of its kw-hrs. sales in 1949, paid higher rates for the smaller amounts of electricity used.

Its gross revenue last year increased to $27,089,365 from $26,139,581 the year previous, while its net income spurted to $4,284,225 from $3,987,234 in 1948. Of its gross operating revenues, 98 per cent comes from sales of electricity and a large part of the balance from sales of steam for heating. It is also developing some good business in the sale of ranges and heaters to contractors.

The undersigned having sold their farm in Tyrone township, located 2 miles north of Chestnut Hill School House, known as the Chestnut Ridge Fruit Farm, will sell the following:

Livestock
5 head of cattle consisting of Guernsey cow, Holstein cow, both fresh by time of sale. Guernsey cow was fresh in January. 1 heifer 15 months old. 1 heifer 11 months old. 4 head of shoats. 15 White Leghorn hens 11 months old.

for new home developments.

Since the business upturn in the fall of 1949, the company has been steadily forging ahead. E. O. Dreas, financial vice president, said that its kw-hr. output was up 4 per cent for the first two months of this year, with all indications pointing to the trend continuing for at least through the middle of the year. Industries in its territory were not affected by the coal strike. There were no curtailments of operations and Metropolitan Edison itself had a 45 day supply of coal on hand when the strike ended.

20 Pct. Increase Expected

Dreas estimated that Metropolitan Edison this year would show an increase of about 4 per cent in sales of electricity, about 3 per cent in revenue, and with the net income rising around 20 per cent to approximately $5,100,000.

He advanced the company's expansion program, which is estimated at $46,249,351 over the next three years, as one of the main factors for the anticipated record highs all along the line. And it is this expansion which Metropolitan Edison expects will enable it to continue to set new peaks in sales, revenue and earnings in future years.

Of the total amount to be spent, $17,241,062 will go for power plants, $12,882,669 for distribution system, $8,616,016 for substations, $3,306,503 for transmission system, and $3,313,101 for general purposes.

Securities Sale Postponed

The company estimates that it will spend $25,127,603 this year, the greater part of which will be for its new electric generating plant at Reading. The first unit of 75,000 kw generating units is expected to be in operation by October 1 and the second unit of similar capacity by early next year. Its expenditures for 1951 are estimated at $13,059,948 and for 1952 at $8,021,800.

Dreas said that about $35,000,000 of the $45,000,000 plus will come from new financing and the balance from retained earnings and depreciation reserves. The company had planned to raise $14,000,000 of this amount Tuesday through the sale of $7,000,000 new firsts of 1950 and 30,000 shares of $100 par cumulative preferred at competitive bidding and the sale of $4,000,000 of additional common to its parent, General Public Utilities corporation, which owns all its common. It expected eight bids for the bonds and six for the preferred.

However, on Friday the sale of the bonds and preferred was postponed for at least 10 days due to the fact that SEC and the New York PSC are still to approve GPU's proposed sale of Staten Island Edison company.

pany for $10,720,000, from which proceeds GPU is to make the $4,000,000 capital contribution to Metropolitan Edison.

Future Financing

Metropolitan Edison expects to raise another $10,000,000 of new money around September or October through the sale of $5,000,000 of bonds, $2,000,000 of preferred and $3,000,000 of common. It will raise the other $11,000,000 sometime about May of 1951.

At present, the company's structure is about 50 per cent debt securities, 26 per cent common and 24 per cent preferred. It is gradually increasing the ratio of common and hopes to have it around 30 per cent by the end of this year.

Wide Diversification

The company's territory runs across Pennsylvania almost from the New York State line in the northeast corner of the state to the Maryland line. It has a wide diversification of industry in its territory, embracing the leading pretzel bakeries, the largest manufacturer of children's shoes, large hosiery mills, steel plants, cement manufacturers, air conditioning and refrigeration manufacturers, automobile frame makers and rural areas.

The company expects to merge its subsidiary Edison Light & Power company, of York, into it by July 1. The merger already has been approved by the PUC and the PFC and is awaiting only the sanction of the SEC.

CAESAREAN IS LESS PERILOUS FOR MOTHER

Pittsburgh, March 15 (P)—A panel of top-flight baby doctors reports birth by caesarean section—surgical delivery of a baby—has become safer for a mother than for her child.

At a meeting of some 700 physicians, members of the American college of surgeons, Dr. Franklin L. Payne, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Pennsylvania, declared caesarean deliveries are now ten times safer for mothers than they were 30 years ago.

Since 1920, Dr. Payne reported, the death rate for mothers following caesarean deliveries has dropped from one in ten to one in 100. The decline in infant mortalities following such operations, he said, has not been as great. The infant death rate, he said, is now about six in 100.

Another member of the panel discussion which yesterday marked the opening session of a two-day meeting was Dr. Charles J. Barone, Pittsburgh surgeon.

Dr. Barone said recent medical advances have turned the tables on age-old tradition which held caesarean deliveries were always more dangerous for the mother than for her unborn infant.

Caesarean deliveries have been known to medicine since the time of the Roman Empire 2,000 years ago. They are named for Caesar, not because he was born that way, but for a law issued during his reign which ruled that such births were legal.

Rex law, as it was called, gave permission for surgical deliveries even though it might cost the life of the mother. The hope was that the infant saved by surgery might be a boy and thus might some day grow up to be a Roman soldier.

Dr. Payne credited improved techniques and their wider use in recent years with making surgical deliveries safe for mothers. He noted such medical milestones as blood transfusions and new medicines.

EVENTS TO AID CHIANG'S BID FOR RECOVERY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

As the signs read, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's dramatic resumption of the Chinese Nationalist presidency marks the real beginning of his fresh bid to reclaim his country from the communists.

The recent successes of the Nationalist air raids against Chinese Communist territory, coupled with the approach of spring and better weather, seem to make this the appointed hour for Chiang to intensify his attack. Moreover, time is of the essence. He must strike before the Reds have consolidated their positions.

In a speech at his headquarters in Taipei, Formosa, the generalissimo declared that the essentials for triumph and survival are unity, teamwork and the complete sacrifice of personal interests. And he added: "If this is achieved I am confident of eventual defeat of the communists."

Well, that's strong language. What makes Chiang believe that he can evict the communists who control virtually the entire Chinese mainland? Has he really a whisper of hope?

Reds Losing Face

Fred Hampson, AP chief of bureau in Hong Kong, cables that the Chinese Communists, whose armies overrun China in a year, are now sitting ducks for the Nationalist air force.

"Military experts," says Hampson, "are becoming puzzled at the Reds' continued helplessness against a relatively small power. Indeed, they have come to believe that the Reds' position in power may actually be threatened unless they can whip responding to that required to feed himself for one day.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lucabaugh have returned after spending several days with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Jacobs, Jr., Newton, N. J. Mr. Jacobs is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Jacobs, Sr., R. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Russell Moody, north of town have returned from their recent trip to Florida and last week Mrs. Moody related interesting incidents of their trip before a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of Red Mount church.

The Mite society of Zwingle Reformed church which has been undertaking to raise funds for the interior improvements of their church building, plans another turkey supper for the public at the church annex on Saturday, March 25.

together some air defenses pretty soon.

"Whatever the explanation, the situation daily grows more intolerable for the communists and, what counts heavily in China, the Reds are losing face at a terrific rate."

Shanghai's power plants are reported put out of commission, trains run at night. Coastal and river shipping is being wiped out and the Nationalist bombers are keeping foreign ships out of every Red port except Tientsin.

Weather Is Factor

It is indeed an astonishing situation—so strange, as a matter of fact, that we shouldn't jump to conclusions about the Chinese Communists' ability to cope with it. They may have a powerful answer in due course.

However, it is interesting to note that the present position seems to fit in with the generalissimo's hopes and plans. He figures on beating the communists by crippling their shipping, land communications and industries with his air force, and launching guerrilla warfare at many points on the mainland.

Plans for inspiring the guerrilla outbreaks were laid months ago. Chiang has been biding his time until conditions seemed right.

So it looks as though China is on the verge of fresh developments. They are likely to speed up as winter gives way to better weather.

The experts say it is possible for a hen to lay two eggs in the same day, although she generally lays only one.

Littlestown

Littlestown—A special committee consisting of John F. Feeser, John R. Bloom and Chester S. Byers will be in charge of the semi-monthly meeting of the Lions club which will be held Thursday, March 16 at 7 p. m. in Bankett's Littlestown restaurant.

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the post home, West King street, at which time the election of officers will be held. A big party will be held in the social rooms following the elections.

The monthly meeting of the Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church was held Monday evening in the lecture room of the church. Members of the class came dressed as they were in their school days. Mrs. Charles Slusser presided as the teacher. Mrs. J. Ray Rein-doll played "The Star Spangled Banner" after which the class gave the pledge to the flag. Group singing followed. The business session was led by the president, Mrs. George Schaefer. There were 21 members present and Mrs. Donald Mann was welcomed into membership. Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe presented the treasurer's report. It was decided to change the meeting night from the second Monday to the first Monday of the month. The women in the Mothers' class in the Children's department were invited to join the Loyalty class social group. Following the business session, the group returned to its "session of school" when a reading class was conducted. A reading, "St. Patrick" was given by the teacher, and a reading, "A Boy and His Stomach" by Mrs. George Schaefer. A trio consisting of Mrs. Edgar E. Yealy, Mrs. Paul Kammerer and Mrs. L. Robert Snyder sang "When Irish Eyes are Smiling." They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. Robert Sell. Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe read a poem, "Three Little Shamrocks of Ireland." Group singing of several rounds followed. Mrs. James Yingling read the story of "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" after which it was sung by the group. Mrs. Howard Trosle donated a guest package which was received by Mrs. J. Robert Sell. A prize was given to Mrs. Emory Gitt for being the member of the class who was dressed most like she was in her school days. Following the program, the class retired to the social hall where refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Ray Rein-doll, Mrs. James Yingling and Mrs. Charles Slusser. Group No. 4 which includes Mrs. Howard Trosle, Mrs. Ernest Renner, Mrs. Henry E. Waltman, Mrs. Esther R. Wolfe, Miss Mary Wintrode and Mrs. H. Dean Stover will be in charge of the program for the April meeting.

A number of the local sportsmen have inquired as to whether a resident of Pennsylvania could fish for suckers or any legal fish in streams, lakes or ponds of Maryland between March 15 and April 15. Because of the many inquiries G. Richard Knipple, secretary of the Littlestown Fish and Game association, wrote to the Game and Inland Fish commission of Maryland for information. Under date of March 13, 1950, Mr. Knipple received the following reply from Malcolm E. King, public relations director in Maryland: "The season in Maryland on suckers, catfish, carp, eels, gudgeon, sunfish, fallfish, white perch and crappie shall open February 15 and close November 30, except in Deep Creek lake and Triadelphia lake."

YOUTH BUILDS APARTMENT FOR 651 FAMILIES

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Mar. 15 (AP)—There are two unusual things about Herbert Fischbach.

He is one of the few men in America who collect silver cornerstone-laying trowels. And he is the only man in America who is building what he calls "the largest single unit apartment house in the world."

At 31 Fischbach is the current byword of Manhattan real estate.

He is supervising the erection of a $12,000,000 massive, luxury-type apartment building for 651 families on a Riverside Drive site where only one family used to live. But the family was that of the late Charles Schwab, the steel titan.

The new building will replace the elegant 75-room stone chateau built by Schwab at the peak of his wealth and once known as "the finest home in the United States." Schwab poured from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 in it, and died insolvent. An odd fact about the chateau: Its refrigerators could hold 25 tons of meat, but Schwab in his last years ate only a boiled egg for dinner.

70 Per Cent Rented
"Steel started going up for the building last week, and it'll be finished by November 1," said Fischbach. "But already it is 70 per cent rented."

The apartments have about everything the wife of a city slicker might ask: automatic waste-disposal units, electric dishwashers, fireproof paint, big closets with built-in drawer space, and maid, valet, catering and shopping services.

Fischbach quit college at 20 to learn the building business from his father, an electrical contractor. He and a partner started their own real estate firm ten years ago on a $500 investment. The partner dropped out in 1941, but Fischbach, gambling on a growing America, kept expanding his firm rapidly.

When the Prudential Life Insurance company bought the Schwab home site for a mammoth apartment house, Fischbach did some preliminary surveys for it.

Saves Silver Trowels

For reasons of their own, however, the Prudential people decided to abandon the project—and to sell, he said.

During the planning of the project Fischbach learned that the cornerstone for the old Schwab chateau had been laid with a silver trowel. He located and bought it. Then he found out that in the old days special silver trowels were fashioned for the cornerstone layings of famous buildings, a custom that now has pretty much died out.

He has about 20 of these fancy old trowels—each cost from $25 to $100—but he has to keep them in his office.

"I do that to keep them away from my wife," he grinned. "She wants to use them for cake knives."

MOVE TO UPSET ADOPTION FAILS

Harrisburg, March 15 (AP)—The legal difficulties of little Vicki Jean Snyder have been cleared up and she is now free to continue living with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Snyder, of this city.

A petition to vacate the adoption by the Snyders of the 4-year-old youngster by her mother, Mrs. Jeanne Bragat, 22, of Tacoma, Wash., was dismissed late Monday by Judge Dale F. Shugart of the Cumberland county courts.

Vicki was the central figure in a nationwide search in December, 1948, when her mother and stepfather took her from the Snyder home to the west coast. She is Mrs. Bragat's daughter by a former marriage to Harry Snyder, son of the child's foster parents. Vicki was adopted by her grandparents May 29, 1946.

On March 1, 1949, Mrs. Bragat filed an application asking that the adoption decree be vacated on grounds that no valid excuse was given to the adoption by or in behalf of the mother of the child.

At the time of the adoption, the mother was 19 years old and was represented by her grandfather, Charles C. Stark, of Mechanicsburg.

In the later legal wrangles, Mrs. Bragat contended that Stark at the time he signed the consent was not mentally or physically qualified to legally and properly represent and advise her. She further stated in the petition that Stark underwent an operation and was no longer able to earn a livelihood and that he persuaded her to sign the adoption papers by saying he thought they would not be legal anyway.
